HAPPY FIRST HALLOWEEN!—Hallowe'en is an exciting time for most children, but pumpkins Hallom, Halima and princess Matuda Hamid Kabron of Little Current experienced their first spooky evening of ghosts and goblins in Canada this past Monday and they were pretty pumped when they showed up at The Expositor offices in Little Current. "Do they know what Hallowe'en is?" is probably the most often posed question. The answer is a resounding 'yes!' Their friends at school filled them in on the ritual pretty clearly. Linda Erskine and Marilyn Harasym dish out the goods at The Expositor offices on Monday night.

MITCHELL NELSON?—The body of Mitchell Nelson, age 57, seen above, was found near Port Albert last month. Mr. Nelson was seen cycling Highway 6 on Manitoulin to board the ferry in mid-September. Police are seeking information on Mr. Nelson, who may have gone by another name.

Police seeking tips on 'true' identity of dead biker-canoeist who traversed Island in mid-September

PORT ALBERT—News circulated on Manitoulin this past Wednesday that a man, who called himself Mitchell Nelson to those who met him, and had seen by many travelling Highway 6 in September—a unique spectacle because of the canoe he was towing behind his bicycle—was found dead along the shore of Lake Huron, near Port Albert, Ontario. Despite receiving over 100 tips, police are still seeking assistance in helping to determine the man's true identity.

"We have received over 100 tips," Constable Jamie Stanley, community services officer with the Huron County OPP, told The Expositor on Monday. "Nothing has materialized from the tips yet, but investigators are working through them the best they can and following up on all leads."

Both this newspaper and SooToday.com interviewed 57-year-old Mr. Nelson as he made his way through their respective ...continued on page 9

Ontario launches opioid strategy to mixed reviews

QUEEN'S PARK—The Ontario government announced a new opioid strategy, touted as its first comprehensive strategy to prevent opioid addiction and overdose. According to a government press release, this new strategy is attempting to meet those goals through "the enhancement of data collection, modernizing prescribing and dispensing practices and connection patients with high quality addiction services." Local health practitioners are giving the new strategy mixed reviews.

"In my opinion it is a good thing that the government is identifying the high number of deaths and emergency room visits," said Dr. Cooper, chief of staff at the Manitoulin Health Centre and a general practitioner with the Northeastern Manitoulin Family Health Team in Little Current. North Shore Search and Rescue seeks public's help to purchase locator system for dementia clients

by Alicia McCutcheon

NORTH SHORE—Members of North Shore Search and Rescue (NSSR) have seen a need on Manitoulin and North Shore communities they are hoping to fill by providing specialized equipment to those who are prone to wandering, such as elderly people with Alzheimer's or dementia or autistic children, but they need the public's support.

Bill Noon, president of NSSR, explained that Project Lifesaver International is a well-known program across the United States and is spreading into Canada, including through search and rescue groups across Ontario. In the North, participating search and rescue organizations in Sault Ste. Marie and Thunder Bay are embracing the program.

According to the Project Lifesaver website, "Citizens enrolled in Project Lifesaver wear a small personal transmitter around the wrist or ankle that emits an individualized tracking signal. If an enrolled client goes missing, the caregiver notifies their local Proj-

Little Current Royal Canadian Legion launches annual Poppy Campaign

by Robin Burrridge

MANITOULIN—Across Canada last Friday the Royal Canadian Legion launched its annual Poppy Campaign. Locally, Northeast Town Mayor Al MacNevin signed the Poppy Proclamation with Branch #177, officially kicking off the campaign in his municipality.

Every year from the last Friday in October to Remembrance Day, the Legion conducts the campaign across the nation to honour those who serve and to raise funds in support of veterans and their families.

Lieutenant-Colonel John McCrae's May 1915 poem 'In Flanders Fields' served as inspiration to American teacher Moina Michael, who made a

Elizabeth Debassige, M'Chigeeng's oldest resident, feted for her 95th birthday

by Betty Bardswich

M'CHIGEENG—The year 1921 saw the introduction of the Canadian five cent piece, the discovery of insulin by Toronto doctors Banning and Best and the Ottawa Senators win of the Stanley Cup. On Manitoulin Island, that year also saw the birth of Elizabeth Debassige, the only girl in a family with eight boys.

Friends and family members gathered at the Anishinaabemowin Gamig Elders Centre in M'Chigeeng with Ms. Debassige to celebrate as she marked her 95th birthday. Originally from Wikwemikong, Ms. Debassige married her husband Norman, now deceased, in 1968. She has 22 grandchildren and 33 great grand children.

Grace Fox opened the celebration and welcomed guests as she noted how great it was to get together and see each other. A testament to her youthfulness, she also mentioned that Ms. Debassige had

Protect yourself and your family; get the flu shot

by Robin Burrridge

MANITOULIN—It's that time of year again, time to get your annual flu vaccine, the first and best way to protect yourself and your family from the flu.

"The flu vaccination can reduce flu illnesses, doctors' visits and missed work and school due to flu, as well as prevent flu-related hospitalizations," states a press release from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). "The more people who get vaccinated, the more people will be protected from the flu, including older people, very young children, pregnant women and people with certain health conditions who are more vulnerable to serious flu complications."

According to the CDC only injectable flu shots are recommended this season (opposed to the nasal spray vaccine). The flu vaccines have also been updated this season to better match the viruses and there will be some new vaccines on the market this season. As well, the recommendations for vaccination of people with egg allergies has also changed.

"The CDC recommends a yearly flu vaccine for everyone six months of age and older as the first and most important step in protecting against this serious disease," the release continues. "In addition to getting a seasonal flu vaccine, you can take every day preventive actions like staying away from sick people and washing your hands to reduce the spread of germs. If you're sick with flu, stay home from work or school to prevent spreading flu to others."

Flu clinics have already begun on Manitoulin, with lots of options across the Island to get immunized.

The Mindemoya Guardian Pharmacy, Little Current Guardian Pharmacy and Manitowaning Guardian Pharmacy are all offering walk in clinics during business hours. A short form must be filled prior to receiving the shot. The Mindemoya location is open Mondays to Saturdays from 9 am to 6 pm and Sundays from 10 am until 2 pm.

Northeast Town to host two day 50 Plus Lifestyle Expo

by Robin Burrridge

LITTLE CURRENT—The Northeast Town will be hosting a 50 Plus Lifestyle Expo at the Northeast Town Recreation Centre on Monday, November 7 to Tuesday November 8.

"We received a Government of Ontario Seniors Community Grant to organize this event," explained Northeast Town events coordinator Lisa Hallaert. "We wanted to showcase the various services and products available on the Island for seniors."

Ms. Hallaert said that there will be over 30 vendors and great workshops throughout the two-day expo.

"We will be having workshops every hour on things like technology, crafts, gardening, financial planning, grief and estate planning," she noted. "There will also be a tai chi demonstration."

There will be a fashion show from Dreamer's Cove showcasing the hottest fall and winter trends on Monday night at 7 pm and a live performance from Katie Harper.

A variety of refreshments will be served each day, also free of charge. "The entire event is free and we have transportation as well," said Ms. Hallaert.

There will be a bus stopping in Gore Bay, Kagawong, Mindemoya, M'Chigeeng and Aundeck Omni Kaning to Little Current and a bus from Wikwemikong, Manitowaning and Sheguiandah to Little Current. Call Ms. Hallaert to book a pick up at 705-368-2825.

Manitoulin's Best 50 Plus Lifestyle Expo will be held on Monday, November 7 from 12 to 8 pm and Tuesday, November 8 from 10 am to 4 pm.

2017 DSB budget passed with slight increase to municipalities

by Alicia McCutcheon

ESPANOLA—At its October meeting, the Manitoulin-Sudbury District Services Board (DSB) passed its 2017 budget, resulting in a 0.40 percent increase to the municipal share.

For Ontario Works, there was a reduction to the municipalities by $81,593, a municipal increase to children's services by $27,930, an increase to social housing by $25,019 and an increase to paramedic services by $70,670. At $15,569,654, the paramedic services budget makes up over half of the DSB's total budget.

Mayor Aus Hunt recalled the early years of fire fighting in the township, prior to 1976 when fire trucks were housed in a building behind Boo Bau Lou Candy Cabin. The building caught fire and when neighbouring municipalities were called on to assist in putting out the blaze, they first stated they were unable to come and then eventually did.

Chronic pain strategy must extend into aging rural communities

Nothing says chronic pain like old age. Advancing years almost inevitably bring with them a plethora of aches and pains that are fodder for an encyclopedia of nursing home black humour and jokes told by the elderly. To check on the veracity of that concept, one need only check in on the elderly person living next door or across the street. Chances are they will confirm a marked rise in pain accompanies the accrual of birthday candles. But in the end, it is really no joking matter.

It probably has not escaped the notice of anyone living in small Northern Ontario rural communities that the median age in those communities is rising steadily and inexorably. For most there is no real end in sight to that trend, time marches on, so health issues and particularly those issues relating to access to timely and effective medical services are of considerable concern to a growing number of Northerners, among whom Manitoulin communities are to be counted.

Any strategy to tackle the issues accompanying chronic pain need to address the larger proportion of elderly that reside in rural and Northern communities if it is to be an equitable approach to the issue. The solution cannot simply be: move to a larger urban area. It is unreasonable to expect the elderly or other residents of Northern and rural communities dealing with chronic pain to uproot themselves, and possibly their families, to resettle in larger urban centres. Economically, such a move will often result in a marked decline in the quality of life of the health care refugee, as life in larger urban centres is often a good deal more expensive than life in a small rural community. Such a move to a more anonymous urban centre could result in the loss of those considerable ad hoc support systems that abound in rural communities, where neighbours still know and help neighbours and communities tend to look after their own.

The social disconnection that results from dislocations to unfamiliar communities have also been proven to be ruinous to the health, both physical and mental, of the elderly and infirm. It is well documented that the quality of life of the elderly is highest when they can be maintained in the familiar comfort of their own home.

It is well past time that those who design our health systems take into account the needs of rural and Northern communities and include sufficient outreach and flexibility in those systems to positively impact people living in those communities.

The current provincial government and in particular the current premier has indicated its determination to rebuild its relationship with both rural and Northern communities. If they want to win back the trust of the people outside of metropolitan Toronto and the Golden Horseshoe, a comprehensive strategy to combat chronic pain and illness that reaches into those communities would be a good place to start.

Old people do tend to hobble to their way to the ballot box in disproportionate numbers.

An equine hero recalled

One horse in particular is always remembered

To the Expositor:

Canada's Northern Dancer, whose myriad offspring are winning races all across North America, the UK, and even Australia and Japan. On opening day at Toronto's Woodbine track on April 12 it is a safe bet that many of the winners will be able to trace their lineage back to Northern Dancer, a famous bay born in 1961 at E.P. Taylor's Windfields Farm near Oshawa, Ont. Northern Dancer died in 1990 and is buried at Windfields. After years of neglect, the graves of Northern Dancer and several of his fellow winners were in danger of disappearing but, alerted by public protests and media outrage, the City of Oshawa and the University of Ontario Institute of Technology took action, and the site is now open to visitors.

On Manitoulin Island we have hard working pioneers and their families buried in the historical Michael's Bay sawmill village, since the late 1800s and early 1900s with no respect. Visitors can visit a famous racehorse but relatives can't visit their ancestors on Michael's Bay Town Site because the Government of Canada owns the property and has Do Not Trespass signs up.

Another farmer questions the distribution of deer tags

How is it possible the people who feed the deer go years without an antlered tag?

To the Expositor:

I would like to know how deer tags are drawn, and why it is so unfair that I receive an antlerless deer tag every five years.

I have talked to many Island landowners who feel the same way as I do.

We are the people who feed these deer, and should be the first to receive tags.

Where does the money go that they made on the sale of tags? Not back into the herd, as a few years ago, deer were starving on the Manitoulin Island, and the ministry was asked to help feed the deer for the winter. There was no money to help; but the landowners never gave up on the herd, they fed them.

I don't know how this happened and call it unfair, as my friends and I hunt together, no antlerless deer tags.

A gang of five from down south got five antlerless deer tags, and that is just unfair.

If the ministry got off their butts and got out in the bush, not running around counting deer droppings they would know that this has to change.

There are very few bucks that are breeding and a number of does, and farms that should be hunted. There should be more antlerless deer tags sold and less buck tags and in a more fair way, not the unfair way it is now being done.

Thank you for your time, a 55-year hunter,

The Royal Canadian Poppy Fund assists veterans for 95 years

All Canadians are invited to show their support through generosity again this year

To the Expositor:

This year marks the 95th year that the poppy has stood as a symbol of Remembrance for all Canadians. It was adopted from Canadian Lieutenant-Colonel John McCrae's poem 'In Flanders Fields,' where he spoke of the poppies growing on the battlefields in Europe during the First World War. His poem became known around the world.

The Legion takes its responsibility to protect the legacy of the poppy and the distribution of Poppy Funds very seriously. All funds collected during our Poppy Campaign are held in trust at every level of the Legion and the use of these trust funds is strictly controlled as outlined in the policy contained in the Poppy Manual.

Poppy Trust Funds assist veterans who are in need of financial assistance and may be authorized for special use expenditures on a case by case basis. Such assistance could include the provision of housing accommodation or care facilities, medical training and research, drop-in centres and meals on wheels, accessibility modifications and other quality of life needs such as wheel chairs, prosthetics or for transition programs for veterans related to their training, education and support needs.

The annual Poppy Campaign is organized and run by local Legion volunteers at over 1,400 branches across Canada and abroad. Donations collected support Veterans and their families in need in those communities.

Perhaps the best measure of success for the Legion's Poppy Campaign is the fact that this campaign has set new records for the past four consecutive years. Last year, Legionnaires everywhere distributed more than 21 million poppies and supporting materials. From the 2014 campaign financial statements, $17 million was returned to support Veterans in communities across Canada.

These funds do make a difference: "The folks from The Royal Canadian Legion, Belleville were over today with a donation to Hastings Manor. We were presented with a cheque. I had my picture taken with the staff. I then cried...We really appreciate the kindness of R.C.L.," says Thomas L. Van Dusen in a recent email to Dominion Command.

Or the comments from chairperson of the Poppy Fund from Legion Branch #59 in Moose Jaw, Christine Simpson, who stated to the Discover Moose Jaw newsletter during the last campaign: "All of the money stays here. If there's a veteran in need or the family of a deceased veteran...if they're in financial need of something, a wheelchair (or) a walker then the Poppy Fund puts the money out. Things happen, like if your furnace goes out and (you) don't have the money to pay for it, we pay the furnace company to install that new furnace."

These stories are repeated time and again at Legion branches throughout Canada. For more than 90 years, the Legion has been helping veterans and their families and our important work continues. But we cannot do this without the tremendous support and generosity of Canadians across the country.

All Canadians are invited to show their generosity again this year for our veterans by supporting the Legion's Poppy Campaign.

Lest we forget.

The legacy of Gordie Howe: his impact on my life

by Gordon Shawanda

It's only natural, every kid has an idol or hero growing up, and mine was Gordie Howe. He gave me warmth and enthusiasm in my early years all through the winters during seven particular seasons when times were rough in the bitter-cold country of Northeastern Ontario. For me, growing up in the 1950s wasn't easy.

I was placed in the IRS (Indian Residential School) in Spanish when I was six-years-old in the early 1950s. This is where I learned how to skate and play hockey. I have to admit the priests were good coaches and good teachers on how to play ice hockey, but they were also strapping disciplinarians. When I came home it wasn't all that rosy-posy either. Running away had entered my mind on several occasions. Mr. Hockey kept me going for seven years even after I left home in 1964.

I was about 11-years-old when I first heard about Gordie Howe. My brothers and neighbourhood kids, we used to skate and play hockey out by the frozen pond near our house at Wikwemikong. One day, so inquisitive, I asked my oldest brother Ray if he knew any NHL hockey players' names. 'Yes,' he said, 'I know Gordie Howe. He plays for the Detroit Red Wings and he's the best in the League.' Ray had just come home for Christmas holidays. He was a chef in Greenfield Restaurant on Woodward Avenue in downtown Detroit, which I would visit 10 years later.

Francis, Eugene and I, had just come home from the Spanish IRS, also for Christmas holidays not knowing this would be our last year in the Indian Residential School. It's obvious my brother Ray was a Detroit Red Wings fan. After all, he lived in the hockey town, the automobile capital city of the world. And this is how I came to be a Gordie Howe admirer. But that's just the way it was—every kid wanted to be somebody else, someone skillful when playing ice hockey out in the frozen ponds.

Gordie Howe kept me motivated for seven years; I became a hockey fanatic. Only my close friends knew it. I started collecting NHL hockey cards, plastic hockey coins, hockey posters, I even ordered the popular Hockey Pictorial magazine, which I received once a month and the Hockey News, which entertained me every two weeks. Both magazines were published in Toronto. It was from these two magazines that I constructed my hockey scrapbook with paste and cutouts. And of course the famous business deal, 5" x 7" Bee Hive Corn Syrup NHL hockey pictures—buy one Bee Hive Corn Syrup and mail in your coupon to Port Credit, Ontario. My hockey collectables piled up. Kids and grown ups alike would drop by, wanting to see my collections, with some readers spending time reading my hockey magazines. I even heard my father say one evening, 'Where's all the syrup coming from?'

Family members started to wonder where the money was coming from. But that's another story. I have been broke many times but I was never poor. There were four people who owned a TV set in Murray Hill in the late 1950s in this satellite community of Wikwemikong: Anthony Trudeau, Alphonse Pangowish, the Murray Hill School, and my father, Jacob Shawanda and on Saturday nights our house would be full of people come to watch the popular Hockey Night in Canada.

There were a lot of hockey fans young and old, most were Toronto Maple Leaf Fans, there was a few Montreal enthusiasts and Chicago Black Hawks fans, likewise Boston and New York Rangers. It seemed I was the only Red Wings Fan around. My parents were Maple Leaf fans so was Francis, and brother Eugene was a Montreal Canadian admirer. But I made sure the people coming in our house knew: Gordie Howe and the Detroit Red Wings were my team. As soon as the neighbours and relatives walked into our house they would see a Gordie Howe picture, 5" x 7", from the famous Bee Hive Company sitting on top of the TV looking superior. He was the Super Star, Mr. Hockey.

Gordie Howe and the Detroit Red Wings never won the Stanley Cup while I was living in Wikwemikong. For seven years I watched them battle it out in the playoffs and in the finals, many times getting beat out by a single goal. After the finals, my friends and my family and the Murray Hill individuals always celebrated with the Stanley Cup champions, something that was notable in the Murray Hill district. And if it's not the Montreal Canadiens winning, it's the Toronto Maple Leafs. For me those times, those unbearable nights, were hard to swallow. But realizing that the Detroit Red Wings had won the Stanley Cup from 1950 to 1954, four years in a row, and no team had ever done it before made me feel proud. And knowing Gordie Howe won the scoring championship year after year and almost every other trophy awarded in the NHL, he also took home made me feel good too. Realizing this remarkable accomplishment, no wonder I lived satisfied my mind in the hockey world for seven years.

Listening to Detroit Red Wings Hockey games year after year on the radio station with my brother Francis was most exciting and to hear Gordie Howe get an assist, score a goal or score a hat-trick seemed more thrilling than ever. Each year, Howe broke records and set new ones. One night me and Francis were listening to the Chi-Aadaam (Chatham) radio station. Gordie Howe was the attention. This time he was on his way to break the record of another Hockey Great record holder, Rocket Richard, for the all time best season of 544 goals.

Gordie Howe hadn't scored a goal in 10 games, he was on a winless streak. I told Francis it's got to be tonight. It was in the fall, our well water was overflowing, and getting mucky and messy. I had to get water across the road at our neighbour's well. I told Francis, I have to get water now and it will give me a chance for a breather. I was getting nervous. As I walked across the road in the dark with a pail in each hand, I asked God Almighty to help Gordie Howe score the goal he needed to break the record. He had been scoreless to long. It was the first time I ever asked the Creator for anything like that. The purpose of captivating. When I came back, I walked into the house and Francis said, 'Gordie Howe just broke the Rocket's record.' I was so overjoyed I dropped both pails of water and it spilled all over the floor. Francis laughed his head off. He said, 'there's more of that where that came from.' What a fine way to ask for help in the dark and for Creator to answer prayers, I thought.

My hockey days were over when I turned 18-years-old. There was no hockey in a town where I lived and worked, Mt. Clemens, Michigan. And my lifestyle was changing. When a person misses a year playing hockey, it's never the same again as something is lost, the coordination is gone. It's not like riding a bike, where you could be off it for a length of time and still paddle the bike skillfully. I played hockey in Wikwemikong for about seven years. Pee Wee, Bantam and I went to Toronto Hockey School for a week in August of 1963. Our special guest was Red Kelly of Toronto Maple Leafs and there were three Instructors, one was Dave Dryden, the brother of famous goaltender Ken Dryden. Fifty of us students went to a field and did a strenuous exercise and 25 hard-working kids were picked to go to Maple Leaf Gardens and watch Toronto Maple Leafs coach Punch Imlach's son Brett Imlach try out for the Toronto Maple Leafs. I was one of the 25 lucky kids picked to watch the tryout game in the Gardens.

To walk into the historic Toronto Maple Leaf Gardens then was a thrill of a lifetime and riding up the escalator was like riding in dreamland. Unfortunately, Brett Imlach didn't make the Toronto Maple Leafs. However, that winter in Wikwemikong, I jumped the league and instead of playing for Juniors, I played in the Intermediate division, a notch higher. Our playing coach was Zaabyea Xavier Fox. My hockey schooling had paid off. But time was moving on for me. It was my last season in Wikwemikong and I missed the hockey town deeply. Wiky was always competitive when it came to playing hockey in Manitoulin Island with the Senior League winning the trophy three consecutive years in the 1950s and Scotty Fisher's Wiky Junior League team also winning three consecutive years in 1960s. The closest I ever came to winning a championship in my lifetime was with Wiky Bantams.

Our coach was my school teacher, Cecil King, now a retired professor in Saskatoon. We lost in Gore Bay in double overtime that evening. Double overtime was rare in those years. There were six teams in Manitoulin Island. Wikwemikong, Manitowaning, Little Current, Gore Bay, Providence Bay and Mindemoya. What I remember was every team was knocked off from the play-offs in Wikwemikong, from Pee Wee, Juniors, Intermediate and Seniors. Bantam was the only team left. When we arrived by car in Gore Bay it felt different without the other teams. We were used to travelling together on a bus. What happened was kind of surprising. Providence Bay Juniors were playing against Gore Bay Juniors right after our game. And it started from the first period, Providence Bay fans were cheering for us, all through the night. Every time we came close to scoring a goal or body checking someone against the boards, they started cheering and chanting 'Go Wiky Go.' that's all was heard all through the night. It may have lifted us a lot, a feeling of appreciation. Even though we lost 3 to 2 to a better team. The 'Porter' youngster was noticeably a super hockey player for the Gore Bay Bantams. Nevertheless, we were the second best team in Manitoulin Island that year.

I lived in Mt. Clemens and hockey was still floating around in my veins at a slow pace. One Saturday I asked my now deceased wife Marge, 'Let's go and see Gordie Howe. He's at Gordie Howe Hockey Land getting prepared for the kids' hockey school in St. Clair Shores.' It was about five miles from Mt. Clemens and we caught a bus to the arena, walked in and I saw Gordie Howe practice slap shots. He slowly turned around and came in our direction and made a slapshot. Marge ducked as the puck landed in front of the solid thick two-inch Herculite glass. Gordie Howe skated over and said, 'Why did you duck?'

We laughed. Amusingly, I said, 'You would duck too, if a puck came at you 100 miles an hour.' This simply saying, he had the hardest slap shot in the NHL. He laughed and said, 'Thank you' and skated on. This man is my idol and the smallest connection could mean so much.

On Sunday evenings, I would go to Gordie Howe Hockey Land to public skating and try to limber up my legs. I enjoyed skating. That winter, on weekends, I played under Francis Miskokomon's guidance in Walpole Island, Ontario, and one weekend we played at Gordie Howe Hockey Land, in St. Claire Shores. We won about 13-3. I wasn't to pleased with the score. I always preferred competition. Francis Miskokomon was a good coach and good friend. He always made me laugh with his recollections.

I moved to Detroit City in 1969, the Hippy Era, fast life, fast cars and long hair. I thought it was exciting: lots of action, lots of parties, a large number of Anishinaabe people and a few 'Blind Pigs' as they were called, known as speakeasies in the 1920s and '30s. It was a place where people went for excitement after closing time to drink and gamble and listen to music. People called it 'blind pig' because the police would drive by them and pretend nothing was going on in the building, for the reason that the law claimed they were allowed to raid the place once every three or four months. This kind of living eventually will catch up to anyone. Doing the same thing, it becomes boring and sickening.

To get out of this environment which was proving monotonous I went to hockey games and watched Gordie Howe play in the old Detroit Olympia Stadium before he retired. On a few occasions, I got my buddy Kenny Chi-geek Greenbird to accompany me. I waited until the Boston Bruins come to play so I could also watch Stan Jonathon in action. He was from the Six Nations Reserve and was known for acting out as a policeman in the NHL. Likewise, the Philadelphia Flyers. I waited until Reggie Leach come to play, the Ojibwe from Manitoba (who now lives on Manitoulin in AOK) known as the 'Sniper,' a deadly scorer, and there was Henry Boucha, who wore a red headband for the Red Wings, a feisty fast skater and one of the finest all around athletes from Warroad, Minnesota and of course watching Gordie Howe play put me in a clear-thinking mode as I watched him move about with great determination. This man could do everything. He was so good at the game he played, they eventually just named him after it. Mr. Hockey.

Not long after, I was playing in Bloomfield Hills outside of Detroit. The bush league game was fast and close scoring. It was at this time I enjoyed myself the most. I played 12 games in the same arena and I noticed I was getting more tired towards the end, out of shape but still fun. My friends, Bobby Tawadjiwan Lewis and Billy Waabaazii Williams, would come with me for support. After the game I would always find them in the bar section of the arena overlooking the ice surface. They would always say 'Good game, Gordie.' I didn't mind them. I still had a little fun of hockey left in me.

The following year, 1973, was my last. I played for Lansing Tribe in Lansing, Michigan. I would drive to Lansing every Sunday from Detroit with a carload of friends and visit families since, mainly, most families we knew were from Wiky. The men and women worked for General Motors, the home of the Oldsmobile auto factory. Bob Lewis was always with me like a bodyguard. He was a lot of fun to be with. I had fun in Lansing playing hockey. There were lots of laughs, lots of joking, lots of Anishinaabe humour. Me and George Roy was on the same team in Wiky Bantams years back and we were on same line in Lansing, Michigan. We were all from Wikwemikong and in Lansing except the two Debossige brothers from West Bay reserve.

The two brothers, Brent and Pete, were good hockey players and they where always known to say, 'You must be from Wiky.' Wiky players, I guess, were known to hog the puck instead of passing it. They just want to stickhandle it and try to score. George tells me, 'those two brothers, they say that all the time, don't mind them.' And

Central Manitoulin Council Notes

Public meeting on rezoning application

An October 27 public meeting to hear input on a rezoning application to change a Providence Bay property, formerly a restaurant, from commercial C1 to residential began at 7:15 (before the normal 7:30 pm start of council) and continued until nearly 8 pm.

At question was a letter of concern from an adjacent property owner who voiced concerns about former gasoline tanks and the scent of residual sewage and the possibility of asbestos residuals from the demolition.

The new property owners' representative Peter Ferro, an architect and property development consultant, took council through a detailed rebuttal of the complaint letter, including letters from all of the other adjacent landowners, the real estate agent handling the sale of the property, the demolition company, the Sudbury and District Health Unit and his own extensive experience with environmental issues.

Mr. Ferrell pointed out that had any issue been found, it would have impacted on negotiations for the sale of the property, but no issues arose from his extensive investigations.

The consultant noted that the couple purchasing the property intended to build on a very different footprint and location on the property, a necessity given the Ministry of Transportation regulations and setbacks that come into play due to the property's proximity to a highway and intersection and a desire of the owners given concerns about road salt etc coming from the nearby roadway.

Consultant Peter Favot makes a presentation to an open meeting before the Central Manitoulin council to consider a rezoning application in Providence Bay. The zoning application request to rezone a property from commercial to residential passed unanimously.

"We have not seen a huge influx of people looking to open a business in Providence Bay in the last few years," noted Councillor Patricia McDonald. "The gas pumps in the community were removed because they were not sustainable. We see Providence Bay as a highly residential community."

The only other comment from the floor came from Sam Bondi, who noted that the property owners seeking to build were a young couple. "It is nice to have young people moving into our township," he said. "We would like to see the zoning approved so we can welcome these new people to our community."

"That is quite an appropriate comment," said Mayor Richard Stephens as he closed the public meeting. "It will likely be an improvement to the town."

Council approves Providence Bay rezoning

On a motion moved by Councillor Derek Stephens and seconded by Councillor Alex Baran, council approved bylaw 2016-21, being a bylaw to rezone a commercial property in Providence Bay to residential.

"It's nice to have a young family move into the community," said Councillor Stephens. "Build a home and have babies," he suggested.

"Welcome to Providence Bay," said Councillor Alex Baran. "I assure that you find it to be more pleasant than this council meeting."

Manor board minutes accepted

Council accepted the Manitoulin Centennial Manor board minutes of July 21 on a motion made by Councillor Ted Taylor and seconded by Councillor Derek Stephens.

OPP policing costs added to 2017 budget

Council moved to add $521,931 to the municipality's 2017 budget as called for in the OPP billing statement for Central Manitoulin. The motion was moved by Councillor Alex Baran and seconded by Councillor Dale Scott.

"Any chance they will move their new office to Mindemoya?" queried Councillor Ted Taylor.

"I am sure it is under consideration," replied Mayor Richard Stephens.

Fire Chief honours recognized in Safety, Security and Health Committee Report

A motion moved by Councillor Linda Farquhar and seconded by Councillor Ted Taylor accepted the report of the Safety, Security and Health Committee.

Mayor Richard Stephens drew attention to a notation in the agenda that the Safety, Security and Health Committee where the committee was congratulating fire chief John Reid on receiving his 30-year service award from Ross Nichols of the Ontario Fire Marshal's office. Chief Reid had attended a ceremony in Sudbury on October 6 for the presentation of his service medal.

"Chief Reid was the fire chief of the former Campbell Township prior to amalgamation," noted Mayor Stephens. "He has actually been a fire fighter for more than 31 years."

"We are proud of Chief Reid and the time and dedication John puts into our Central Manitoulin Fire Department," reads the note from the committee, "and we ask that council acknowledge Chief Reid's milestone accomplishment."

Financial reports and cheque registers approved

A motion by Councillor Alex Baran and seconded by Councillor Dale Scott approve the financial report ending September 30, 2016 for the Finance and Economic Development Committee.

The cheque register in the amount of $650,006.49 was approved on a motion by Councillor Alex Baran and seconded by Councillor Derek Stephens.

Planning Board minutes approved

The Manitoulin Planning Board minutes for September 27, 2016 were approved on a motion made by Councillor Linda Farquhar and seconded by Councillor Derek Stephens.

Police seek help in break and enter

On Sunday, October 30, Wikwemikong Tribal Police received a report from a female residing at a house on Andrew Crescent that she awoke to discover someone had entered her residence and removed a number of electronic items.

The homeowner had been away from the residence the evening prior, returned late and went to bed. Upon awaking she discovered entry was made through the rear door and that a PlayStation 4 console set, an Acer laptop computer as well as an Asus laptop computer had been stolen. One Acer 7" tablet was also taken in the break and enter.

The Wikwemikong police are asking for the public's assistance with any information pertaining to this report. Members of the public are encouraged to call the Wikwemikong Tribal Police at 705-859-3141 or to notify Crimestoppers at 1-800-222-TIPS.

Cross country not over!

Congratulations to Manitoulin Mustang James Scott who will travel to his third OFSSA cross country championship in his third year running with a gutsy third place finish in last week's NOSSA, Northern Ontario contest. Good luck, James!

Over the past year we have mentioned the three Wikwemikong girls who compete in Provincial Cross-Country races. Victoria Trudeau, Shaolin Roy and Francesca Pheasant have had much success. The trio running in Toronto on this past weekend (York Region), Tori Trudeau came in 25th against more than 100 Southern Ontario runners most of whom run year round and belong to elite running clubs. Keep up your great training, trio!

Mustang alumnus keeps on, keeping on Manitoulin athlete Wyatt Kennedy was profiled last week in the Cambrian College newspaper. The article hailed his return to the cross-country team after a long battle with cancer (Non-Hodgkin's lymphoma). While he was a runner for the Manitoulin High School Mustangs Kennedy ran his way to seven OFSSA (all-Ontario Federation of Secondary Schools Association) finals under the direction of Coach Jim Stringer who he thanked for his support. Wyatt transferred from Sault College (where he was first diagnosed with his illness last year) to Cambrian this year and is a proud contributor to the Golden Shield's running program. Continue to fully recover, Mr. Kennedy.

Wikwemikong player ices pro competition

Wikwemikong's Kelly Babstock is back in the Women's Professional Hockey League. Skating for the Connecticut Whale in the NWHL Babstock recently picked up a goal and an assist in a 4-2 victory over the New York Riveters. The newsfeed described her goal as "a hard slapshot from the top of the left circle. Kelly is a former high-scoring, US college, Division 1, star.

Junior A(ce)!

Greg Trudeau Paquet continues to shine in his rookie year in the NOJHL. He now has 11 goals and 5 assists for 16 points in only 17 games. That total makes him the leading rookie in the entire league on top of that, the number-10 rookie in the entire Canadian Junior Hockey League (CJHL). In addition he has climbed to 15th in scoring in the overall NOJHL. These results are all the more impressive when you consider that Gregory plays for the French River Rapids who (based out of Noelville).

Gregory comes from a very athletic family and his younger brother Izzy shine on the high school football scene. Last week, playing for the St. Charles College Cardinals, Izzy, a devastating tackler, gathered two interceptions in a 42-6 Cardinals triumph!

Panther points

The Manitoulin Bantam Panthers made it to the semis in the West Ferris Early-Bird tournament. The elder Panthers sopped the Powasson Hawks 4 to 1 this past Friday night. The Island cats were doubled up by the Parry Sound Shamrocks on Saturday morning 4-2 but then dominated the Muskrat Voyageurs that evening, 4 to 1. Unfortunately, Manitoulin was ousted by Pembroke on Sunday. Keep up the hard work, Panthers!

In former Manitoulin Panther news Nick Esposto (and former OHL player!) is now a member of the Laurentian Voyageurs Varsity Hockey Club. Nick fired a goal in Laurentian's 4 to 1 win this past week. Keep sniping, Nick!

Never stop playing!

This column tend to focus on the younger of our athletes' accomplishments. However there are so many of our more experienced competitors who are still out there being active and having fun. Congratulations to Shelley Wemigwans of Wikwemikong on volunteering to become the goalie on her ladies' hockey squad. In a Sault Ste. Marie Tournament this weekend, Shelley was flawless in leading her Dooganing Road hockey club to a 5-0 victory. Keep going, Shelley!

A good sport is good for sports.

Mustang boys' hockey to play first game this Friday in Little Current

by Robin Burrridge

MANITOULIN—The Manitoulin Secondary School (MSS) boys' hockey team has been selected and the team is ready to kick off the season with its first game this Friday, November 4 at the Little Current Recreation Centre at 7 pm against École Secondaire Catholique L'Horizon.

"The team has been picked and we are optimistic about the upcoming season," said coach Steve Doane. "We had 34 boys attend tryouts and got the list down to 18 skaters and two goalies. We have some big shoes to fill with a large part of last year's team graduating from the program. Time will tell if this year's addition is as skilled as last year's team, but early indications are that they will hold their own and they appear to be a physical team."

The team has had two exhibition games, the first against Saint Charles, with MSS losing 8-1 and against Chelmsford, with MSS winning 7-1.

Returning from last year are Mason Pine, Alex Smith, Parker Dickinson, Tait Wallace and Cole King.

Wikwemikong High School's Ian Dokum, left, placed 21st in his division at the Northern Ontario finals last week, an excellent showing for the Warriors cross country team.

Island schools fair well at NOSSA x-country Two MSS runners headed for provincials this week

by Robin Burrridge

ESPANOLA—Manitoulin was well represented at the Northern Ontario Secondary School Athletics cross country meet last week in Espanola with teams attending from Manitoulin Secondary School (MSS) and Wikwemikong High School.

From MSS, Marjorie Scott placed 16th in the midget girls' race (3.1 km), while in the midget boys' race (5.1 km) Ryan Jones placed 27th, Boston Thibeault placed 33rd, Ben Marshall placed 35th and Shannon Debassige place 37th. Overall, the midget boys' team paced fourth at the meet.

For junior girls', Beth Wiwchar came in ninth with a time of 18:40, which qualified her for the Ontario Federation of School Athletic Associations (OFSSA) championship. Gabby Corbiere also competed in the junior girls' and placed 17th.

In the seniors boys' race (7.4 km), James Scott won bronze with a time of 27:03, also qualifying him for OFSSA.

Beth and James will be attending the OFSSA Cross Country Championships in Port Hope on November 5.

"Ian Dokum finished 21st out of 48 runners," said Wikwemikong High School Cross Country Coach Marcel Recollet. "He also set a personal best time of 20 minutes and 44 seconds! What is incredible is that the midget boys ran a further distance at 5.25 kilometers. Ian was top runner representing NSS-SA. Novaleigh Pelletier finished in 56th place out of 66 runners. She also ran a further distance at 3.1 km compared to 2.9 km at NSS-

SA. All this within a difference of 10.62 seconds! In the senior boys' division, DJ Maingowji also set a personal best under 40 minutes in the 7.4 km race. Geordan Lewis also finished strongly and showed a lot of competitiveness. Congratulation Warriors for an excellent season!"

New trails in Mindemoya now open to all

by Judy Olacke

MINDEMOYA—Over the last year, Manitoulin Special Olympics partnered with Community Living Manitoulin to extend and improve the trail system through the maple bush on Community Living and adjacent landowners' property. With the support of Community Living Manitoulin, Charles Love and John and Cheryl Seabrook, the group developed a marked trail system for walking, snowshoeing and skiing. Manitoulin Special Olympics use the trails for our snowshoe and Nordic ski athlete training. Community Living individuals also use the trails for various activities. This is a shared trail. In the winter, volunteers groom to accommodate one side of the trail for classic skiing and the other half is for snowshoeing.

All this work was made possible with the support from TD Friends of the Environment, and several local businesses and organizations: Cranston Tree Service, H&R Noble Construction, DA Williamsons and Sons Hardware, Taylor Sawmill, Central Manitoulin Lions Club and Providence Bay Spring Bay Lions Club.

Now the trails can be used by the general public. The group formed the Maple Ridge Trail Club and affiliated with Cross Country (Ski) Canada, which has important insurance coverage for the property owners and club members. A yearly single membership costs $30 and a group membership costs $38. These prices include the $18 that goes to Cross Country Canada and Cross Country Ski Ontario for insurance reasons. All Manitoulin Special Olympics in partnership with Community Living Manitoulin (CLM) have made improvements to segments of trail running through the CLM's and neighbours' maple bush property, which is now open to the public. The main trail is 1.5 km long, but longer loops are available.

There are many treasures to be discovered on the Mindemoya trails.

members under one group membership can use the trails by signing in at the trailhead (ie. family, school group, health program group, hotel customers, etc.). If someone wants to use the trail on a daily basis there is a day use fee of $2/child, $5/adult or $10/family. The Maple Ridge Trail club has kept costs low to encourage active outdoor use. Due to insurance restrictions, no biking by the public is allowed. A convenient and easy way to join the Club can be done online at zone4.ca. One just needs to type in "Maple Ridge Trail Club" and follow the steps.

The Mindemoya trails begin in an open field at the old 'Hope Farm' property of Community Living Manitoulin (at the new CLM Administration Office). The trailhead box offers a trail map and sign-in sheet. The start has a gentle climb through maple forest onto a limestone ridge. There are views overlooking parts of Mindemoya and opportunities to see wildlife. Along the trails you can spot fossils, huge boulders (glacial erratics) and for the little ones, fairy homes. There is a paved portion of one of the trails that takes you to a picnic area; ideal for persons with mobility issues.

Over time, the club will be adding more interpretive spots/signs to heighten user enjoyment of the area. The trail system includes four well marked trails with mild elevation changes, making the system safe for family and senior users. The main trail loop from the parking area and back is 1.5 km long but greater distances are possible with additional 2 km and 0.5 km loops.

The primary goal of the group has been to enhance the opportunities to walk/ski/snowshoe within the heart of Mindemoya. They have tried to develop safe, easy to follow trails of varying lengths, with the hope that users will have a quality trail experience that fosters an appreciation of the maple forest around them and have fun being active outside so they return to the trails frequently.

*Proud Supporter of our
MSS Mustangs*

Kendra Jordison is a grade 11 student this year. Her constant strive for improvement and success serves to assist all of her athletic accomplishments. When Kendra was younger, she played on many local team sports such as the NEMI soccer, NEMI baseball, curling and figure skating club. Her hard work and commitment to her favourite sport, figure skating, has been awarded many times. Kendra has reached the Jr. Bronze level for skills and freeskate, the bronze level for her interpretive, and the Sr. Bronze level for dance. She admires the true beauty for this sport. In high school, Kendra has made the curling team in grade 9 and was on the gymnastics team last year, when she was in grade 10. This year, she plans on trying out for the gymnastics sport aerobics team. In school, Kendra enjoys learning new things and expanding her knowledge about the world around her. Her favourite subject is music. On her spare time, Kendra enjoys playing her clarinet, the piano, singing and baking. Her inspirations in life come from her faith and her family. After high school, she hopes to pursue a career in the health field as a Registered Nurse. Wishing you all the best Kendra, and congratulations on your accomplishments.

are Seth Peltier, Nathan Debassige, Greg Doane and goal-tenders Alex Martin and Tyler Hughson," said Mr. Doane. "Also new to the team are some promising rookies from the Bantam Panthers: Parker Hall, Connor Bellmore and Jayden Little. Strong players from the Manitoulin house league system making the team this year are Connor Croft, Matthew Redmond, Tyler Argue, Kyle Debassige, Chris Haner and Zack Kategiannis. New to the school is rookie Zack Paul who has some good size and skill and will be fun to watch this year."

The coaching team includes Jordan Smith, past head coach Brand Bond and head coach Steve Doane. Bill Hal-laert is this year's equipment manager, while Dawson

Campbell will be this year's trainer, Garrett Gauthier this year's manager, Bailey deChateauvert will be videotaping the games and PA announcers and music will be provided by Hannah Corbiere and Ben Armstrong.

The Mustangs will be attending several tournaments this year including November 18 in Lively, December 1 in North Bay and February 2 in Burlington.

Home games for the first half of the season at the Little Current Recreation Centre are: Friday, November 4 at 7 pm against Horizon; Wednesday, November 16 against Macdonald Cartier at 4 pm; Friday, November 25 at 7 pm against Notre-Dame; Friday, December 9 at 7 pm against Lo-Ellen and Wednesday, December 14 at 4 pm against Chelmsford.

Lakeview for Terry Fox

Lakeview School had its Terry Fox walk on the National School Terry Fox Day. The entire school walked down Lakeview Drive to show their support for Terry Fox. This year Lakeview participated in "Toonies for Terry" where students were able to bring in their toonies to be put into a classroom draw for Terry Fox t-shirts. The money went to the Terry Fox Foundation for cancer research.

reporting areas on a journey that began in Alberta, utilizing both bike and canoe, and was scheduled to end in London.

Mr. Nelson told Expositor publisher Rick McCutcheon that he had suffered a mishap with his first canoe during the Ontario leg of the trip and so purchased another one in Thunder Bay and continued the biking-towing trip to the town of Red Rock, near Nipigon on Lake Superior.

“It was Mr. Nelson, his bike and gear back into the canoe for a paddle down the Lake Superior coast as far as Terrace Bay at which point he once again took to the road, admitting there had been some long stretches of the Trans Canada Highway along Lake Superior where the diminutive and wiry 57-year-old had been forced to walk his bike and its entourage up steep and lengthy hills,” Mr. McCutcheon wrote of the man’s travels, referring to the endeavor as “sisyphus-like” in the September 21 newspaper story.

Mr. McCutcheon said he had encountered the man while driving to Little Current from Manitowaning. The newspaperman got to Little Current and decided to go back to the hill at Green Bush Road, armed with a camera, where he was cycling and find out his story.

“I chatted with him because of the unusual circumstances of towing a canoe with a bike,” Mr. McCutcheon said. “He was affable enough, but not loquacious.”

“There was a resigned sadness to the guy, and I remember thinking ‘I hope he makes it,’” the publisher added. “It’s a sad commentary on someone who had obviously set himself a task and had almost completed it.”

And ‘almost’ is the operative word here. Mr. Nelson told The Expositor scribe that he planned to take his gear across Lake Huron via the Chi-Cheemaun and then put his canoe back in the water with Grand Bend on Lake Huron his destination after which he would be biking to London where he had family and friends.

An OPP spokesperson observed to The Expositor Thursday that the point where Mr. Nelson’s body was found on the Lake Huron shore was only about an hour’s paddle north of Grand Bend.

The Expositor spoke with Constable Stanley regarding the investigation into Mr. Mitchell’s death.

“The body was found in the surf on a beach north of Port Albert on Saturday, October 15 by civilians,” said Constable Stanley. “A post mortem exam was conducted on Monday (October 17) on the body. The cause of death was undetermined, but there is no evidence to indicate foul play.”

As to how long the body had been in the water, Constable Stanley said it was estimated to have been a week to a few weeks.

Constable Stanley also said that a search was conducted for his canoe and bicycle, but they have yet to be located.

“Contact information was found on the deceased that led to the reporter from the SooToday,” continued Constable Stanley, explaining how investigators initially identified the body.

“We have run the name ‘Mitchell Nelson’ through many databases which has proven unsuccessful,” added Constable Stanley. “We are hoping that through the news and social media, we are able to get the photo out of the deceased and get a positive ID of the body.”

Police have been following up on tips, indicating that he may have taken the Chi-Cheemaun ferry to Tobermory, which he had told The Expositor he planned to do.

The OPP has requested the assistance of the Owen Sound Transportation Company (OSTC) in determining when Mr. Nelson boarded the ferry from Manitoulin.

“We do know that he travelled on the ferry,” said OSTC CEO Susan Schrempf, “but we are not certain of the date and time.” Once that information has been determined, the OPP will be able to interview the staff who may have come in contact with the deceased in his travels. “At this point we can’t say,” noted Ms. Schrempf, “because we just aren’t sure.”

There have also been sightings of Mr. Nelson with his canoe and bike travelling on land near Port Albert. Constable Stanley said that investigators are still working on trying to piece together a time frame and travel path.

The end of the Expositor’s September 21 story is sad in its foreshadowing.

“Well,” he was asked rhetorically by The Expositor, “this trip was a good idea, wasn’t it?”

“Was it?” Mr. Nelson responded, setting out again.

Anyone with information can contact the Huron County OPP at 1-888-310-1122 or their local police agency immediately. Should you wish to remain anonymous you can contact Crime Stoppers at 1-800-222-8477 (TIPS) where you may be eligible for a cash reward of up to $2,000.

“It is unfortunate we have to notify the next-of-kin in this manner, but we have no other option other than to seek help from the public in this instance,” said Huron County Detachment Commander Inspector Younan.

Mr. Nelson is described as a white male, average to medium build with balding, grey hair, a thin moustache and, according to what he told this newspaper, 57 years of age. He was found wearing a blue Fluid brand lifejacket, a black fleece-type pullover/jacket, black wind pants with the letters “PEP” on a shield and black Nike running shoes.

Mr. Nelson told The Expositor that he had left Edmonton, where he had been living for the past several years, on Canada Day following the fireworks in that city. He had put his canoe (and presumably his bike) into the North Saskatchewan River on that day and headed north and then east across the prairies and into Ontario on his odyssey.

...Unusual challenge raised to Central minutes

utes, Councillor Derek Stephens discovered he had a major challenge.

“I will move the motion to put it on the table,” he said, with Councillor Dale Scott seconding the motion, “but in regards to 383-16, the minutes indicate that the motion was defeated, but that motion passed.” Councillor Scott was in the chair when the motion in question was debated as Mayor Stephens had vacated the chair indicating he wished to speak on the motion.

In response to Councillor Stephens, Mayor Richard Stephens replied that “all the votes were not counted at the meeting. There were six people there, when the chair of the meeting called for the vote, three were in favour, one was against and one voted in abstention (under the Municipal Act, abstentions are counted as negative votes). The other vote wasn’t accounted for.”

Mayor Stephens asserted that the sixth vote was not accounted for until the following Sunday, when he contacted Councillor Scott and asked him two questions. “I asked him if he had voted and if he had voted, how he would have voted,” supplied the mayor. “He indicated to me that he would have voted against it.”

Councillor Stephens pointed out that the motion had been voted on in open council and declared as carried by the chair of the meeting. He pointed out that the chair of council, normally the mayor, does not vote on motions unless there is a tie or a recorded vote is called for. “The vote was three to two, so there was no tie, so there was no need to vote,” he said.

The Municipal Act’s section 244 declares that “Except as provided in sections 233 and 238, no vote shall be taken by ballot or by any other method of secret voting and every vote so taken is of no effect.” Call around votes by telephone are not an exception.

“My notion is that all of the councillors should vote,” replied Mayor Stephens.

“One, there is no such thing as abstentions,” agreed Councillor Stephens, “two, the chair of the meeting stated that the motion had carried and three, I don’t think it is appropriate to get an opinion over the phone as to how that person would have voted. He said carried.”

“That is exactly why I asked the question,” insisted Mayor Stephens.

“Traditionally our chair has not voted,” pointed out Councillor Patricia MacDonald. “I know if I am doing the vote I look for four hands.”

“In Dale’s (Scott) case it was three-two,” noted Councillor Stephens.

“His vote had an impact as to how the vote on the motion was going to be decided,” replied Mayor Stephens.

“As a chair, he didn’t have a vote,” replied Councillor Stephens.

“The chair is at the table,” said Mayor Stephens.

“We had a vote, the vote was three to two, there was no tie,” said Councillor Alex Baran.

Councillor Scott, who was sitting as chair during the debate on the motion, agreed. “As Alex said, it was three to two, I didn’t feel the obligation to vote,” he said. “It didn’t matter how I was going to vote, I didn’t feel the requirement for it. The vote was three to two, that is why I said carried.”

“He has to vote if it would have an affect on the vote,” rejoined Mayor Stephens. “It is not a life and death situation.”

Councillor MacDonald pointed out that the chair had indicated the motion was carried. “We can’t change the minutes because somebody said on the phone that they would have voted against the motion had they voted,” she said.

“My understanding is that we are not to vote (if the cast votes do not come to a tie),” said Councillor Scott. “If it had been three, three, I would have had to vote.”

Councillor MacDonald suggested that the motion be sent back to committee to be revisited.

“No, I am not willing to do that,” challenged Councillor Stephens. “This motion was carried. I think the mayor is changing that because it is what he wanted. To try and work that around is word play. That motion is carried and it should be noted in the minutes as carried.”

“In my opinion, all the votes have to be accounted for, I would like to see it sent back,” said Mayor Stephens.

“That is what you are doing,” rejoined Councillor Stephens. “Getting what you wanted.”

After discussion with the acting clerk, the council came to the realization that removing the motion from the minutes was not an option and that sending all of the motions back would be unwieldy.

“I am not in favour of sending everything back to committee,” said Councillor MacDonald.

A recorded motion was called for on the motion to approve minutes, with a friendly amendment agreed upon by the mover, Councillor Stephens, and the seconder, Councillor Scott, to indicate that motion 383-16, a motion to approve the drainage report, be carried.

Councillors Stephens, MacDonald, Scott, Baran and Ted Taylor voted for the motion, while Councillor Linda Farquhar and Mayor Stephens voted against the motion. The motion carried.

passed that the municipality form its own fire department, build a fire hall and purchase a truck.

"There was no grant money to build it," shared Mayor Hunt. A used truck was found in Barrie. Murray Thompson and Jim Ferguson drove down to pick it up.

When asked if he had ever served as a volunteer on the fire department, Mayor Hunt admitted "no, I was too short." He may not have been on the department, but many ago when members of the community were called on to assist in fighting a fire, he was right there dipping a pail in the bay to help out.

Mr. Gilchrist has been Fire Chief for 12 years and along with Deputy Chief Peters, Deputy Captains Connell, Beckett and MacKay, meet twice a month with the men and women of the community.

Training officer Preyde, together with approximately two dozen volunteers, make up the department. Ms. Alkenbrack, shared Chief Gilchrist, holds the important role of dispatcher.

Today's department is made up of long time members and new recruits alike.

Following the presentation Mayor Hunt commended the volunteers and Chief Gilchrist by saying that they, like their predecessors, were "dedicated just like you people are. We are very proud of you and our department. Thank you, Merv. You have a good operation here."

Alma Jean Migwans said the opening prayer, which was a Prayer of Thanksgiving for Life. "In honour of our elder," Ms. Migwans said, "we thank her for being with us and for sharing her wisdom all these years. The number one gift, the most precious gift she teaches us is about good thoughts, to have good thoughts."

Ms. Migwans also added, "Thanks for the meal, for the services and for the organizers for us to gather at this special event."

After the delicious meal was served, it was time for presents with Ms. Fox giving Ms. Debassige a t-shirt that read 'Kiss me, I'm 95.' Lisa Ense had a special present for Ms. Debassige, a slideshow that began with a picture of Alex and Rosalie, the parents of Ms. Debassige. There were pictures of the homestead, then and now, of a very young Ms. Debassige and others as she grew older. A very special picture was of the couple celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary.

There was talk, also, of Ms.

Ms. Debassige is pictured at her 95th birthday celebration with her daughter Dorothy Fox, her granddaughter Robin, her great granddaughter Mikayla Bondy and her son-in-law Edward Fox.

Debassige's many hobbies over the years including sewing and quilting and living off the land by canning, making maple syrup and hunting for small animals. Ms. Debassige also worked for a time as a custodian at Manitoulin Secondary School (MSS). It was noted that Ms. Debassige still loves to dance, in particular 'the brown sugar stomping dance.' She also took a pottery class in 2010 and travels with the other elders on trips.

The celebration ended with many pictures taken and with everyone going home with a piece of birthday cake.

...Ontario launches opioid strategy to mixed reviews

getting people off of the drugs—but that is not its goal. It is hoped that will happen, but it isn't the central goal."

Dr. Cooper said that the addition of suboxone to the arsenal of the battle against the debilitating effects of opioid addictions by making it more readily prescribed is a good thing, but that it is significantly more expensive. "You are looking at around three dollars a dose for suboxone and methadone is pennies, but a lot of the cost is in dispensing fees, so there isn't that much difference in cost to the government," he noted. "It is a safer drug and the efficacy is about the same." Efficacy in this regard is actually measured in the reduction of deaths by overdose and visits to the emergency rooms of local hospitals. When suboxone is used to treat opioid addiction, the risk of a fatal overdose is significantly less than with methadone.

"I am delighted that the government has announced 17 new chronic pain clinics," he added, but there is a significant caveat to that delight. "Where are they going to be located?" queried Dr. Cooper. "I don't expect they will be located in small rural or Northern communities. It probably won't help those smaller communities." Many small rural communities, including First Nations have epidemic proportions of opioid addictions running rampant.

It is a concern shared by Algoma-Manitowlin MPP Mike Mantha. "With 17 pain clinics coming to the entire province I'm very concerned that this will leave Northern Ontario without access," he said.

As for the rest of the strategy, Mr. Mantha also had concerns. "I know of people who need this medication (opioids) to function and this will not help them," he said. "It will only accomplish two things: one is cause financial hardship for those who can't afford the medication pushing them to the black market and two, causing further health concerns as to the uncertainty of the quality, effectiveness and dosage of the product. We do have an opioid problem but denying the care to the most vulnerable who suffer with incredible pains isn't the answer. Let's make sure supports are in place for those suffering and have pain clinics available to all who need them."

"Lots of rural people get started on opioids when they are trying to deal with chronic pain," Dr. Cooper noted. "I don't think we do a great job on the issue of chronic pain management."

If the new strategy contains a significant outreach component that will stretch into rural and remote communities, that would be a major step forward for those areas, he suggested. "I would like to see opioid addiction services integrated into primary care." Right now those services are largely separate and that tends to single out and marginalize those seeking help.

"I am also a little bit concerned about the training component," said Dr. Cooper. He noted that there is currently a great deal of training and information available. "It seems like every third email I get in my office is from an organization offering training. There are a lot of resources (currently), so it is not a lack of effort. But you can know how, but the question is 'are you applying that knowledge in an appropriate manner?'" he said.

Dr. Cooper pointed out that while he can prescribe chemotherapy medication, "I wouldn't want to be the one prescribing chemotherapy drugs. It has to be considered carefully by someone trained in that field to safely prescribe and monitor the drugs."

There are three pillars of approach to a strategy that Dr. Cooper said he believes need emphasis. "People with addictive personalities should not be prescribed opioids; we should be managing chronic pain better; there has not been nearly enough research into managing chronic pain; and a huge part of opioid addiction is taking place in shattered communities, opioid addiction is a reflection of underlying issues."

As a society our approach to addictions tends to only deal with the symptoms of deeper social issues, noted Dr. Cooper. While there are issues that spring from more advantaged parts of society as well, and some of that will be unavoidable, the underlying social issues that provide the most fertile breeding ground for addictions need to be addressed. "Although we tend to hear a lot about it in First Nations communities, the issue is not at all limited to those communities," he pointed out. "There is a common vein running through those communities that are being most impacted and it tends to be those communities that are socially and economically marginalized."

Ontario's strategy to prevent addiction and overdose includes: designating Dr. David Williams, Ontario's Chief Medical Officer of Health, as Ontario's first-ever Provincial Overdose Coordinator to launch a new surveillance and reporting system to better respond to opioid overdoses in a timely manner and inform how best to direct care; developing evidence-based standards for health care providers on appropriate opioid prescribing that will be released by end of 2017-18 to help prevent the unnecessary dispensing and over-prescribing of pain killers; delisting high-strength formulations of long-acting opioids from the Ontario Drug Benefit Formulary starting January 1, 2017 to help prevent addiction and support appropriate prescribing; investing $17 million annually in Ontario's Chronic Pain Network to create or enhance 17 chronic pain clinics across the province, ensuring that patients receive timely and appropriate care; expanding access to naloxone overdose medication, available free of charge for patients and their families through pharmacies and eligible organizations to prevent overdose deaths; and increasing access to Suboxone addiction treatment and improving patient outcomes and integration of care for those using this treatment.

Beginning October 1 stricter controls on the prescribing and dispensing of fentanyl patches took effect and patients are now required to return used fentanyl patches to their pharmacy before more patches can be dispensed.

According to the Ministry of Health, Ontario's opioid strategy was informed by the recommendations of the Methadone Treatment and Services Advisory Committee, which was established by the province to advise on strengthening Ontario's methadone treatment and related services. The

"We don't get any kind of funding for this, and the receivers are $5,000 each and we need at least two, but we're hoping for six," Mr. Noon said.

So far NSSR has contacted all of the Lions Clubs in the district and has received $9,000 in donations to date.

On top of this project, "we also have to raise enough for the team (NSSR)," Mr. Noon added, noting the voluntary road toll the group will be undertaking in Espanola during

Workshop helps ready tourism operators for international market

by Michael Erskine

LITTLE CURRENT—Northeastern Ontario Tourism (formerly RTO 13A), the agency that promotes tourism in the part of Northern Ontario containing Manitoulin, hosted an International Market Readiness Workshop for Northeast Ontario operators at the Anchor Inn Hotel conference room on Thursday, October 27.

"Today we are hosting an international travel trade workshop with some of our key operators here on Manitoulin Island," said Northeastern Ontario Tourism Executive Director Donna McLeod during a brief break in the busy agenda. "We are building alliances and looking at product a different way as to how we can work together to present a product to the international market."

The workshop was facilitated by international tourism veterans Barbara Ferrell and Bruce Burnett of Ferrell and Partners Marketing Inc.

Ms. Ferrell is a seasoned hospitality marketing and sales executive with over 20 years at Canadian Pacific Hotels and Fairmont Hotels and Resorts where she gained extensive experience in the North American and international tourism markets. Ms. Ferrell's specialty is found in Tourism consultant Barbara Ferrell takes local tourism operators through the paces of attracting the international tourism trade.

"identifying and developing new business opportunities, product and niche markets" and she is "equally adept at drafting sound marketing strategies and implementation plans."

Mr. Burnett brought the global experience he has garnered in developing tourism programs and packages in Switzerland, Japan, the Middle East and Canada as well as his experience as president of Horizon Holidays and as a vice-president at global tourism giant Jonview. Mr. Burnett's forte is in "developing complex, multi-week cultural tourism programs as well as shorter two- and three-night travel packages for discerning tourism clients." Mr. Burnett was also "instrumental in the development of the Rideau Heritage route, a supporting stakeholder-component in the UNESCO inscription of the Rideau Canal. Mr. Burnett is also currently the operator of Franklin and Frobisher Travel Service, which develops package holidays for European visitors to Canada.

"Today we are working with Northeastern Ontario Tourism and their important partners on Manitoulin who are interested in attracting some new visitors from some overseas markets and part of what we have been engaged to do is to work with the industry, helping them to understand what these visitors are all about, what kinds of things they are interested in when they are considering a visit to Northern Ontario and specifically Manitoulin Island," said Ms. Ferrell, "and then give them all of the guidelines and parameters that are involved in working with the travel industry partners who develop and sell programs in the markets we are interested in. In this case the UK and Germany."

Part of what the consultants were doing during the workshop was showing the Island partners the criteria that they had developed with Northeastern Ontario Tourism that will equip with the knowledge operators to be successful. "Our mission here is to set everyone up to attract new visitors to stay longer, spend more time here to increase the revenue and improve the economy here on Manitoulin," said Ms. Ferrell. "Our mission here is to improve the economy here on Manitoulin and in Northeastern Ontario."

...MSS teacher seconded by board

includes a number of features that will respond to the various strengths and needs of our learners, schools and district school boards. It will promote greater collaboration between everyone, including educators, students, leaders and parents."

Ms. Theijsmeijer will be that critical link in providing that greater collaboration, particularly between educators in the RDSB. Her region includes the public schools on Manitoulin Island, both elementary and Manitoulin Secondary School, as well as Espanola and "the Valley" (Hamner, Val Caron etc.).

"I will be working with teachers and principals to really identify who needs support," said Ms. Theijsmeijer. She will not only be identifying why those students need support, but also matching up innovative methods to provide that support.

The award-winning teacher is well positioned to meet the challenges of her new position. "I have done a lot of professional development myself," she noted, as well as having produced a number of scholarly papers. That dedication to learning and developing best practices is a symptom of the passion she brings to her job. "Working with other teachers is something I really enjoy," she said.

The new gig does not mean she is turning away from her first love, however, as the appointment is a one-year program. "I will be rebounding back to the classroom at the end of the year," she said.

In the meantime she will be kept pretty busy. "The learning curve is really steep," she admitted. "But it is a nice change of pace."

The province identifies the Renewed Math Strategy as "an Early Years to Grade 12 strategy that will benefit from and mobilize the latest research and lessons learned regarding effective math learning, teaching and assessment. The strategy will provide new forms of support to all schools, increased support to some schools with greater needs in math achievement, and intensive support to a select group of schools with the greatest needs in math achievement.

Support for schools will focus on professional learning opportunities for teachers and principals, and will support teachers in planning for effective learning and teaching that includes problem solving, direct instruction, investigation, assessment and practice. This will allow students to learn with understanding, develop proficiency, learn mathematical ways of thinking and attain an appreciation for how math is used in everyday life."

This will be accomplished in part through "60 minutes per day of protected learning time for effective math instruction and assessment will be required for students in Grades 1 to 8, in addition to embedding the use of math across the curriculum. To support this, the ministry will work with education partners to develop resources that articulate evidence-based practices that should be implemented during this learning time."

...Ontario launches opioid strategy

Methadone Treatment and Services Advisory Committee is comprised of addiction experts, experienced clinicians and patient advocates from across Ontario.

In addition, Dr. Eric Hoskins, Minister of Health and Long-Term Care, and Dr. Williams have written to all health care providers in Ontario outlining the strategy and enlisting their support to help prevent and reduce opioid addiction and overdose and the government will "continue to seek input on the strategy and identify additional areas for consideration."

Underlying the new strategy are some startling facts. In 2014, over 700 people died in Ontario from opioid-related causes, almost two per day, and that represents a 266 percent increase in overdose deaths since 2002.

During the fall of 2016, public consultations will be held with families, caregivers, academics and health care providers, people with lived experience, among others, to seek input on the strategy and to identify additional important considerations. You can send your comments to: opioidactionplan@ontario.ca.

Pilgrims at Poplar Corners

Memoir collection examines life before television

MILLS TOWNSHIP—A mother and son with roots on Manitoulin have teamed up to provide a nostalgic look at a corner of the Island that is frequently overlooked. 'Pilgrims at Poplar Corners' is the result of a collaboration between journalist Margo Little and recording artist Morgan Little. The book has been released using the resources of Manitoulin Publishing.

In a series of memoirs focusing on early childhood in Mills, Ms. Little reflects upon the nature of family and community in Northern Ontario during one transformative decade (1947–1957). Drawing upon her own formative experiences in an isolated township on Manitoulin Island, she explores a culture as yet untouched by advanced technology. Through this coming-of-age memoir, mature readers will have an opportunity to revisit the Canada they knew before the digital age and young readers will be able to imagine, and perhaps even appreciate, the values of previous generations.

The purpose of 'Pilgrims at Poplar Corners' is to create a bridge of understanding between a generation raised with chalkboards and textbooks and a generation raised with laptops and smart phones. Although Canadians living in the 21st Century take many creature comforts and technological achievements for granted, there was a time, not so very long ago, when running water, electricity and a reliable food supply were far from guaranteed.

The author chronicles her insular upbringing from her toddler years in a trapper's cabin at Michael's Bay to her unique education in a one-room school house on Western Manitoulin. With wry humour she shares the many childhood mishaps and encounters that helped shape her adult perspectives. The collection of personal essays, although written in the tradition of American authors Eudora Welty and Annie Dillard, serves as a distinctly Canadian homage to rural roots.

Readers are invited to travel back in time to a decade when rural Canada was still governed by the values and living conditions of the post-Second World War era. The book is not intended as a formal autobiography; rather it is a collection of vignettes focusing on incidents that had an enduring impact on an inquiring mind.

Although the tales touch upon some tragic occurrences and uncomfortable realities, the publication is in essence a love letter to Manitoulin Island and its people. As the author interweaves present day themes with episodes from the past, readers may see aspects of their own youth in these anecdotes of universal struggle.

'Pilgrims at Poplar Corners' is available at the Expositor Book Shop. Copies are also available at the Gore Bay Museum and Robertson's IDA. Many of the stories have appeared previously in Highgrader Magazine in Timmins, Ontario. Downloads for E-readers can be found at Kindle Direct Publishing.

Ms. Little is a charter member of the Sudbury Writers' Guild and founder of the Manitoulin Writers' Retreat. She holds an MA in Interdisciplinary Humanities from Laurentian University. Previously she contributed to a variety of publications including 'The Other Woman was Lady Luck,' 'Meg's Solo,' 'Portraits of Spirit Island,' 'Manitoulin Morsels,' 'Canadian Crossroads' and 'Manitoulin Cross-pollination Two.' The Pilgrims collection has been released in 2016 to celebrate the 10th anniversary of the Manitoulin Writers' Circle.

...The legacy of Gordie Howe: his impact on my life

so I end up with these two brothers on one of the shifts in the third period. Were in our own zone and can't seem to get out. Brent has the puck and he's a real good stick handler as I could see, but won't pass the puck. Pete looks frustrated and shouts real loud to his brother, 'You must be from Wiky.' I cracked up laughing, I couldn't stop laughing. I had to get off the ice. But I remembered that phrase in the Pee Wee days in Wikwemikong. They use to call my friend Harvey Bell Sr. in the Pee Wee division "Puck Hogger." Harvey was a great stickhandler and good all around player. George says, 'those two clowns have the puck all the time and they haven't scored a goal yet.' And more laughs. We played one Christmas weekend in Wikwemikong and got beat about 10 to 3. For the first time, I felt like I was actually working hard on the ice, the fun of the game had left me.

In 1978, I moved to Hamilton and worked for one of the steel companies. Hamilton was desperate to get an NHL franchise. They even built the NHL size arena hoping for an NHL team. The arena was named in honour of former mayor Victor K. Copps, the Copps Coliseum. The Hamilton team had been booted out of the NHL in the 1920s for demanding to strike. They were informed they will never have an NHL team again. To keep Hockey alive in Hamilton, the Russian series took place there. Gretzky and Mario Lemieux were stand-outs for Canada in the 1980s. It appeared hockey fever was back knocking on my door. I remember standing in line in the cold, freezing rain to buy a package of hockey tickets for the Russian series. But most surprising, previously Mr. Hockey had made a comeback in the early '70s to play with his two sons Mark and Marty Howe for the Houston Aeros in the rival World Hockey League (WHL) and they won a championship twice in Houston, Texas, and a few years later they moved to Connecticut (Quinnipiac) meaning (long tidal river) in Algonkian and became the Hartford Whalers.

When I heard they were coming to Toronto to play against Toronto Toros (another WHL franchise) I was excited and anxious to see my idol Gordie Howe play again, this time with his two sons Mark and Marty. I have to see this game, I said, this may be the last time I will see my idol play live hockey. (Mr. Hockey was 51-years-old when he retired in 1981 playing professional hockey. He played with the best hockey players in the world.) I caught a bus to Toronto and when I got on the escalator in Maple Leaf Gardens, my memory takes me back when I was a kid 20 years earlier. I particularly remember riding the same escalator in the early 1960s. 'Not much has changed,' I thought with a grin. I'm still a Gordie Howe follower.

When Gordie Howe got on the ice in Maple Leaf Gardens the crowd stood clapping, a long standing ovation respectfully. I watched him carefully as always. I watch his feet, I watch his legs and stride, his body check, his sharp elbows, and mostly I watch his lightning-fast switch of the hands and I watch him score. That night Gordie Howe scored the winning goal to make it 4 to 3 for the Hartford Whalers. Maple Leaf Gardens was jumping with seventh heaven. Nothing had changed, maybe a step or two, but he was still number one in my book, Mr. Hockey.

My attending the Joe Louis Arena in Detroit on June 13 of this year was for me an important contribution to a memorial service for Gordon Howe. It was a special ceremonial that brought people to give thanks and show gratitude. It's similar to our Rain Dance Ceremony in Wikwemikong for all men, women and children who have gone to the Sacred Tree to pray. It shows a mark of respect. Gordie Howe gave me determination, enthusiasm and affection to the game of Hockey since I was a little kid playing hockey with the best of them on Manitoulin Island. There was always something to look forward to when Mr. Hockey stepped on the ice. He was the only NHL player ever, who could shoot a puck either from left hand and quickly switch to right hand and score. Gordie Howe showed us how.

TIME TO CHANGE YOUR CLOCKS AND THE BATTERIES IN ALL SMOKE AND CARBON MONOXIDE ALARMS

Clocks will fall back one hour November 6 and the NEMI Fire Department is recommending residents install new batteries in their smoke and carbon monoxide alarms when they change their clocks.

In order for smoke and carbon monoxide alarms to do their job, they need to have working batteries. Once a year, old batteries should be replaced with new batteries. When you change your clocks on November 6, the NEMI Fire Department wants everyone to take the time to install new batteries in all alarms."

In order to survive a fire, you need to be provided with an early warning and know what to do when the smoke alarms sound. It's the law to have working smoke alarms on every storey of the home and outside all sleeping areas. For added protection, it is recommended to also install smoke alarms inside all bedrooms.

Carbon monoxide alarms must be installed outside all sleeping areas if your home has a fuel-burning appliance, fireplace or attached garage.

Tampering with or removing the batteries from your smoke and carbon monoxide alarms is against the law. Failure to comply with the Fire Code can result in a ticket for $360 or a fine of up to $50,000.

Animals find furever homes at Kat's Pet Supply Adoption Day

by Betty Bardswick
MINDEMOYA—A second successful adoption day was held at Kat's Pet Supply in Mindemoya on October 29 from 10 am to 2 pm that saw three cats and one dog adopted.
 "The most important thing that people should know," said pet store owner Kathy Jewell, "is that when they adopt a rescue, they are helping to reduce the over population of cats and dogs. Also, all of the animals are spayed or neutered. They are fully vaccinated and have a full vet check. Any immediate medical work is also taken care of. Adoption rates are reduced on adoption days with rates for cats going from $180 to $150. For two cats, the fee is $170."
 Ms. Jewell also had high praise for the rescue group Fixing our Felines under Mallory Harasym of Manitowaning who works tirelessly to find homes for cats and have their vet work done.
 Ms. Jewell will be hosting ongoing adoption days with the next one held probably in the spring. She also would like to remind Islanders that older cats need a forever home too.

Derek and Nina Harvey of Copper Cliff were happy to bring Casey the black lab puppy home.

 "It was a busy day, but we were hoping for many more adoptions as there are still many kittens and adult cats in need of a good support across Manitoulin and beyond towards MPR. We have been given many animal supplies such as beds, crates, leftover food, collars and leashes. As well as financial donations to keep doing the work that needs to be done. Please know that all financial donations will received a tax receipt in January 2017."

 "We are still in need of volunteers and fosters to make us help more animals in need," Ms. McDermid added. "We thank all of those who came out today to our adoptathon for Manitoulin Pet Rescue."

Pumping in time to the season

The annual delivery of silica to the tanks located behind Joly's on Highway 6 was underway this past week. The arrival of the barge carrying the material used for winter road maintenance is an annual rite of the coming changing of the season and winter's frigid temperatures. The material is pumped through a pipeline that extends to the tanks from the former Little Current coal docks across the North Channel from the town.

VON has a wide range of services to help seniors on Manitoulin

by Robin Burrige

MANITOULIN—Seniors living at home on Manitoulin can access a variety of services through the Victorian Order of Nurses (VON) to help them with everything from meals, housekeeping and transportation to medical appointments.

The Expositor spoke with VON Manager of Community Support Services Stephen Brushett about what services are offered on Manitoulin and how seniors or caregivers of seniors can access them.

“We run adult day programs in Wikwemikong on Wednesdays and Mindemoya on Tuesdays and Thursdays,” explained Mr. Brushett. “The purpose of the program is to provide therapeutic recreation for seniors that are isolated, frail or have mild dementia. It is also provides respite for caregivers.”

A small fee is required to participate in the program, but lunch is provided.

Another service offered by the VON is coordinating volunteer drivers to take individuals to medical appointments.

“We have a lot of drivers that take individuals to Sudbury for appointments,” said Mr. Brushett. “We coordinate the volunteer drivers, and individuals are asked to pay the volunteer’s mileage from the Northern Health Travel Grant funds they receive.”

Meals on Wheels is also accessed through the VON. “We offer meals to most communities on the Island,” Mr. Brushett said. “We have volunteer drivers who drop off frozen meals monthly. The meals are approved by a dietitian and are available for specific diets. We also provide hot meals based out of Mindemoya and Gore Bay. The meals are subsidized and are available for $7.”

Assisted living and personal support services are also provided by the VON but must be accessed through the Community Care Access Centre by calling 310-2222.

“Assisted living and personal support services are available to seniors living in their homes such as bathing, dressing, meal prep, medical assistance, medical reminders, light housekeeping and security checks,” said Mr. Brushett. “The VON’s Home Help provides more specific housekeeping such as vacuuming, dusting and dishes for a subsidized rate.”

To find out more about the services offered in your community by the VON or access them for yourself or a loved one, call 705-377-4225.

Island paramedic awarded medal

BLUE MOUNTAIN—Five Manitoulin-Sudbury District Services Board (DSB) paramedics were recently awarded the Emergency Medical Services Exemplary Service Medal, including Manitoulin's own Adam McDonald.

Paramedics Andre Therrien Jr., Chris Gillis, Adam McDonald, and Linda Lebeau were presented with the service awards by Lieutenant Governor Richard Rohmer during the September 29 Ontario Association of Paramedic Chiefs Annual General Meeting at Blue Mountain. Paramedic Maureen Sagadore is also receiving her medal but was unable to attend.

The service medal is awarded to eligible members of the pre-hospital emergency medical service with more than 20 years of exemplary service characterized by good conduct, industry and efficiency.

Additionally, Superintendent Mario Danis has been awarded his second bar indicating a total of 40 years of meritorious duty. This brings the number of current or former Manitoulin-Sudbury Paramedics receiving this award to 24.

At the October 27 DSB board meeting, Board Chair Les Gamble offered the board's sincerest thanks for all the outstanding work of the areas paramedics. Chief of Paramedic Services Michael MacIsaac noted that, "Paramedics come to work every day with the idea that they are going to help someone and the fact that our 5 paramedics have been helping our community members for over 20 years each is outstanding." Noting that 40 years of service from Superintendent Danis is extremely rare he went on to say, "I am extremely proud of the work our paramedics perform and for this group to receive this honour is an indication that all their hard work and dedication does not go unnoticed."

The award is part of the Canadian Honours System made available through the Governor General and presented each year.

M.S.S. Kids in the Halls

Students and staff alike are putting their best talents to work at MSS. After a hard set of tryouts, the girls' hockey team has been finalized: Sophie Bondi, Faith Taylor, Anna Migwans, Mikayla Noble, Karly Newton, Maddy Niven, Michelle Campbell, Trinity Leeson, Avery Sheppard, Randi Lovelace, Ashlyn Hare, Bethany Wesno, Brooke Addison, Alayna Cranston, Mya Otosquaib, and Hannah Woostenek. The team played in the East and West tournament on Friday the 21st and lost 2-1 to an A division team and won 3-0 against another A division team. The team just played their first game of the season on the 18th, and won 9-1 against Horizon from Val Caron.

The x-country team competed at NOSSA on Wednesday, October 26 at the Espanola Golf Course. Marjorie Scott placed 16th in the Midget Girls' race (3.1 km). In the Midget Boys' (5.1km), Ryan Jones placed 27th, Boston Thibeault placed 33rd, Ben Marshall placed 35th, and Shannon Debassige placed 37th. As a team the midget boys placed 4th overall. In the Junior Girls' race (4.1km), Beth Wiwchar placed 9th, qualifying for OFSAA with a time of 18:40, and Gabby Corbiere placed 17th. In the Senior Boys' race (7.4km), James Scott placed 3rd, qualifying for OFSAA with a time of 27:03. Both Beth and James will be competing for OFSAA Cross Country Championships at Port Hope, Ontario on November 5.

From October 25-27, Victoria MacDonald, Ms. Bauer, and I travelled to Orillia for the Students As Researchers (STAR) Conference. The three-day conference brought students from all over Ontario together to learn how to properly conduct a research project in their schools. When the girls arrived they were brought down to their cabin where they parted ways with Ms. Bauer and did some ice breakers with the other 12 girls in their cabin. When it was time for dinner, the group went to the dining hall for the welcome session and a delicious dinner of spaghetti and garlic bread. After dinner, all of the students listened intently as representatives from the Ministry of Education spoke to them about the different ways their research could help students improve learning all over Ontario. The next day, Victoria and I were in the Birch Cabin with the rest of the Grade 9-12 students. The day was spent developing inquiry questions to research. In between sessions, the teacher facilitators who work at the OELC introduced Games of Low Organization. The entire group of 183 students played games like Shoulder Jousting; Rock, Paper, Scissors, Cheer; and the Atom Game. The evening was devoted to students from each school working with their teachers on setting up a plan of action. Victoria, Ms. Bauer and I were full of ideas, and were still not done after the time was up. In the last hour before students were sent to bed, there was another session of Games of Low Organization. This time, the students played games like the Human Knot, the Raft game, and Cup Stacking. Everybody left the gym laughing and talking to their new found friends. On the morning of the 27th, there was one final session in the morning before students and teachers returned to their schools to put all of their ideas into action. Schools were put into groups with other schools, then each group took turns presenting all of their plans. Students gave input, compliments and were even inspired to add something else to their plan. The drive back to Manitoulin was a productive one as Victoria, Ms. Bauer and I worked on the proposal for our research project. Returning home, we all reminisced about the people we met, our favourite moments, and looking forward to putting all of our hard work into action.

Halloween activities started on Thursday, October 27 with a pumpkin carving contest. Later, the Students' Council hosted the Halloween dance on the evening of October 27. The council stayed after school to get everything set up, decorating the gym with streamers, lights, paper ghosts, and multi-coloured lights. DJ Blake Debassige played great music, varying from Blake Shelton to AC/DC. Students' Council handed out candy bags to the students with best costumes: Alisha LeDain, Amanda Gillespie, Tait Wallace, and Eden Beaudin. From 7-10 pm the students who came danced, talked, and sang along with the music.

Still celebrating Halloween, on Monday, October 31 the SHARE/Go Green had a bake sale to raise money for Kenya. There was one bonus to the sale though. If staff or a student brought in a non-perishable food item, they got a free treat. We Scare Hunger took place on Monday night. Over 30 students in communities all over the Island collected non-perishable food items for the Manitoulin Food Bank instead of Trick or Treating.

As she heads out to enjoy her retirement, staff and students would like to thank Mrs. Whynott for all of her amazing work at MSS, including organizing career fairs, teaching cooperative education, fundraising for musicals, and managing sports teams. We also welcome Mr. Smith as he adds his talents to the staff of MSS. There are so many opportunities for MSS staff and students to show off their skills in the school and community. 3. 'The Whistler' by John Grisham
4. 'The Obsidian Chamber' by Preston Child

5. 'A Life Well Played' by Arnold Palmer

'Night Watch' by Iris Johansen - "Sometimes, what you can't see will kill you."

Born blind, Kendra Michaels spent the first 20 years of her life living in darkness. Then, thanks to a revolutionary medical procedure, she was given the gift of sight. She is a remarkable investigator with her highly developed senses and combined with her newfound vision, she is sought after by law enforcement agencies all over the country.

She has been in several novels by Iris Johansen, this is the best one yet.

'Stories of the Game' by Wayne Gretzky - In this book Gretzky looks back on the last 99 years and tells us, from his point of view, about the NHL's most memorable moments. We already know what he means to the game. Now he shows us what the game means to him. We are taken onto the ice and into the dressing rooms to share never-before-published stories about the great players and great characters who have inspired him.

'The Whistler' by John Grisham - We expect our judges to be honest and wise. We trust in fair trials, to protect our rights, and to oversee the orderly and efficient flow of justice.

News from the Mindemoya Library Book Mice

by Claire Cline

But what happens when a judge bends the law or takes a bribe? It's rare, but it happens and this is a story of what actually has taken place more times than we realize. A good read.

'The Obsidian Chamber' by Preston & Child - Another novel involving Special Agent A.X.L. Pendergast a beloved character in several books by Preston & Child. He is missing, presumed dead and his dear friends are sick with grief. Pendergast's ward, Constance, is taken captive by a shadowy figure from the past. Proctor, Pendergast's longtime bodyguard springs to action chasing Constance's kidnapper throughout cities, across oceans and into wastelands unknown. By the time Proctor discovers the truth, a terrifying engine has stirred and it may already be too late.

'A Life Well Played - My Stories' by Arnold Palmer - These stories are a treasure trove of entertaining anecdotes and timeless wisdom from on and off the course told by world famous golfer Arnold Palmer. He is a man with a down-to-earth common touch that has made him one of the most popular and accessible sports figures in history.

Ontario Library Week has come to an end. Our winners of the "Guess the Weight of the Pumpkin" was Julia Sanders at the Mindemoya library and Nancy McDermid was the winner at the Providence Bay library. "Guess the Number of Candies" was won by Jack Bridgeman and Silvio Berti in Mindemoya and Nancy McDermid was the winner at the Providence Bay library. Eric Wahl was the grand winner in the colouring contest!

Congratulations to everyone and thanks for participating. Thanks to everyone that also baked for our patron appreciation days.

Remember our IT tech is here at the Mindemoya library every Wednesday morning from 10 am to 12 noon, ready to help you with any problems you may be having with your computer or wanting to learn "how to do" whatever on your computer. This is a free service available to all our Mindemoya and Providence Bay library patrons.

We are still hoping that more 12-year-olds will want to come for the Babysitting Certification Course that will be offered at the Mindemoya library if we have enough people attending. This is a one-day course and is a great learning experience for young people. Please call the Mindemoya library at 705-377-5334 and leave your name and number and we will get back to you.

Now that winter has sprung (snow this morning) remember our hours to come in and find some good books to help you get through the next few months. Providence Bay library is open Tuesdays 6:30 to 8:30 pm, Wednesdays 1 to 3:30 pm and Fridays 1 to 4:30 pm.

At the Mindemoya library we are open Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays from 10 am to 5 pm and on Thursdays 1 to 8 pm.

See you at your library!

Royal Canadian Legion Branch 177 Little Current

REMEMBRANCE DAY CEREMONIES

Little Current Legion Br. 177, in cooperation with Little Current Public School, will conduct a Remembrance Ceremony at 10am on Friday, November 11 at the school. Members are asked to be present by 9:40am.

Our traditional Remembrance Ceremony for the community will start at 11am at the Little Current Legion. Please be present by 10:45am.

At 1:30pm a Remembrance Ceremony will take place at Centennial Manor followed by a Wreath Placement Ceremony at the downtown Little Current Cenotaph.

Ceremonies will be held in communities and First Nations across Manitoulin Island to recognize the achievements of our Veterans and to honour those who made the ultimate sacrifice. We hope you will attend.

Make remembrance more than something you feel.
Make it something you do.

+ in memoriam

LAIDLEY--In memory of Al Laidley, November 2, 2015. We wish we could spend another day with you And have that time again, For since you've been gone, Dad, Life has never been the same. With sadness and love Your family

24p

SIMON--In loving memory of Daniel Michael Simon Jr., June 30, 1989 - November 3, 2009.

I'M FREE
Do not worry about me, for now I'm free:
I'm following the path Creator laid for me.

I took His hand when I heard Him call;
I walked the path and left it all.

If my parting has left a void Then fill it with remembered joy--

A friendship shared, a laugh, a hug & kiss:
Ah yes, these things too, I will miss.

Be not burdened with times of sorrow:

I'm with you through the sunshine of tomorrow.

My life was short but I savored much;

Good friends, good times, A loved one's touch.

Perhaps my time seemed all too brief,
Don't lengthen it now with undue grief.

Lift up your hearts and share with me---

Creator wanted me now, He set me free.

Daniel, my brother--always loved and you are forever missed.

Love Always,
Your sister Joy, brother-in-law Darryl, nephews Davin and Noah and niece Serene

24c

SIMON--In memory of a special son, Daniel Michael Simon Jr., June 30, 1989 - November 3, 2009.

Of all the special gifts in life However great or small To have you as my only son, Was the greatest gift of all.

Our special bond, Your smiling face,

A special Son I can't replace.

With aching heart I whisper low,

I miss you Daniel and I love you so.

Love always, Mom

24c

WHITE--In loving memory of dear husband, father, grandpa and great-grandpa, John (Tom) White, who passed away November 4, 2015.

Do not stand at my grave and weep,

I am not there - I do not sleep.

I am the thousand winds that blow,

I am the diamond glints in snow,

I am the sunlight on ripened grain,

I am the gentle autumn rain.

As you awake with morning's hush

I am the swift-up-flinging rush

Of quiet birds in circling flight.

Do not stand at my grave and cry,

I am not there - I did not die.

Cheryl, Brad, Bryan, Sherry, Keith and all the family

We would like to thank family and friends who came to celebrate our 50th Anniversary. Special thanks to our kids and grandchildren who helped to put this on for us. Also would like to thank the Jr. U.C.W. for the lovely luncheon and to the Islanders for playing our kind of music. Thanks for all the beautiful gifts and best wishes. Andy and Linda Bowerman.

24p

The family of the late Phyllis Marshall wishes to thank Dr. Jeffery, the hospital staff and home care providers for the excellent care she received. Special thanks to Sandra McMurray, her PSW and friend for many years. Floral tributes, donations, cards and food brought to the home are greatly appreciated. Our thanks to the Rev. Garniss for the comforting church service and to the UCW for providing the reception afterward. Iloff and Jane Peck, Warren and Gail Peck, Bev Morphet and our families

Tehkummah Talk and Times

Raymond Chatwell, I hear, is sporting a shiner. Take it easy there, met up with a road he didn't like.

A busy week for me in Mindemoya three days in a row. When are they going to put stoplights in at the corner? That could be a dangerous spot!! Monday did laundry and blood work, found Loretta Sauder working at Mum's, had breakfast with Faye, did I remember right? From Kaga-wong, nice lady. (Home, cards with Mum.) Tuesday, brakes fixed in the a.m., shopped about, lunch at the Grill and Chill, delish, as we Tara, Skylar and I did on Wednesday again when I had my Teleconference appointment with Dr. Sheketa. Tara went in with me, but I might make it a week or two yet!

Stopped in at cribbage, eight tables again, doing well. A couple of games with Mum after she whooped me!

I'm singing myself lullabies in the middle of the night. I've got to get turned around. Instead of wanting to sleep in, in the morning.

Four tables for euchre Thursday in Tehkummah: Bev and Richard on K.P. duty. Men's high, Janet, 83; lone hands, Gib, 4; low, Simon, 50; ladies high, Marg, 74; 4 lone hands; ladies' low, Sheila and Anna, 53; Door?

Get well soon Janeen (Phillips) who had surgery this week.

I met the most interesting lady, Diana, after the Knox rummage sale. I went to Loco Beanz for a good bagel with cream cheese and coffee. While at the sale talked to Heli. She had done a local radio interview with me quite a few years back, hadn't seen her since, I don't think! Boy, they had lots of stuff to browse through.

Notes this week from Helen O, contained a note from her friend who is enjoying my book. Also a beautiful card from Elaine Viola note! Tara, Skylar and I gave Ed Haggith a ride to Mindemoya with us, he walks a lot. Did you ever wonder why he has everything marked with blue paint, his bush trails, trees too? It's because it is a colour he can see with his fading vision. Says he has bought 47 gallons of it the past few years!

Had the most laughs tonight as the girls played cribbage. Incidentally Susan and I are taking our game on the road! We won five of seven, of course having a "remember when" session after, sparked a lot of humorous memories. Girls night out too, we had the most delicious roast beef dinner at the Sandfield Kitchen!! Mum, Pauline, Susan and I. Try it, you'll like/love it. Earlier in the day I went to Barney's and Laurene was co-pilot. We had a coffee at Loco Beanz after, where I got to say hello to Jane Fletcher.

Hey, I was only going to do two shoeboxes this year, but four are ready to go, as of today, didn't get anything else done though!

Went to euchre (what a cold evening it was until Marg and Laurene), nice to climb into a warm car. Winners at Sandfields final of the season. "A family affair." Dot was ladies' high, I remember, Dave James, back in town, had his name on the board a few times. Sharon too, anyway a fun evening. I've really enjoyed these past few weeks, cards at Sandfield.

Euchre tournament, Triangle Club, winter program starts on Thursday, November 3, 1:30 pm (afternoon) (two weeks later will be evening at 7:30 pm).

Cribbage scores, 8 tables: high hands, Barb and Sheila, 24; first, Keith and Lori, 937; second, Barb and Georgina, 928; third, Patryshia and Laura, 923; low, Cal and Audrie; door, Hugh, Glenna and Sheila.

On Tuesday at the Grill and Chill, I had lunch with Joan, Rita, and Laurene, we visited actually.

Sandra and Samson are on the Island this week visiting her mum and dad, Lois and Don Arnold.

Didn't know whether I should put the frying pan on the stove and get it warmed up or not. Ray's away moose hunting this week, but then I think back, don't know if I ever got a moose steak??

Now who told me about a giant horned owl with a broken wing (somebody saved it, I think Cal and I went to Carol's and Earl's for our supper: Jack/Greenway) and Anita visited with us. Lorrie was our waitress. We visited Dave, Sherry and the kids? We're at the camp.

Well no moose steak, Ray came home Saturday night. Mum trounced me good, two skunks today after church. I go home head hanging low!! Church as always, one never knows what Martin has lined up for us. Today he was on the road again. He'd been everywhere, we get to sing along, all because his sermon on Paul and the everywhere (he sang all those names, he had been his preaching and teaching.) Bible study Thursday afternoon at Lynda and Martin's home. A few of us gathered at Carol's and Earl's after church. Kathy, Terry, Pauline, Wayne, Simon, Mum and I.

Providence Bay News and Notes

The winners of the monthly euchre tournament that is held on the last Tuesday of each month are as follows: Linda and Danielle won first with a whopping 101 points. Congratulations ladies! Second place went to Fred and Jim with 87 points then Betty Jean and Bill were next with 83 points followed by Wilma and Kal at 82. The most lone hands was won by Bill and Betty Jean with eight lone hands. The low hand went to George and Gayle. Don't forget that there are regular weekly euchre games every Tuesday. Remember the tournaments are held on the last Tuesday of each month. You don't need a partner for the regular weekly games.

Dawn Young was down to see her specialists in London following her transplant and the doctors continue to express that Dawn is doing exceptionally well. Her mother is so thankful for all of the well wishes and considers that the power of all of the prayers that have been sent out are being answered and is thankful for everyone who continues to do so.

Get well wishes and prayers are being sent out for Gary McFarlane who is at Health Sciences North recovering.

Riley Wright married

Amanda Recollet at their home in Wikwemikong on Saturday, October 29. The guests were all dressed up with a Halloween theme. He is the oldest son of Amy and JD Wright. Riley's grandmother Lynn Swiheart came up from Ohio to attend the wedding.

The Providence Bay Halloween Dance was a howling great time. The hall was well decorated and everyone in attendance was dressed up in stunning costumes. The DJ was fantastic and had the dance floor packed the whole night. The lunch was delicious and hit the spot at the end of the night. Thank you to all of you who volunteered your time either working the dance and/or supplying all the goodies. They had a hard time picking the winners for the best costumes as everyone looked so great. The winners of the best dressed couple went to Keith and Brenda McAllister who dressed up as Snow White and Dopey. The individual winners were Pat O'Leary as a cave woman, Jackie Patterson as Poison Ivy, Maria Diebolt as a jellyfish and Leah McAllister as Tinkerbell. Congratulations to all!

Don't forget the monthly curling club breakfast will be held on Thursday, November 3 from 7-9 am.

This hearty buffet breakfast is superb and will satisfy any appetite. All proceeds go to the upkeep of the club.

The Providence Bay Curling Club is holding an open house on November 6, 2016 between 1 and 3 pm for registration for this upcoming years' season. This will be for any new or seasoned curlers. If you'd like to curl but aren't able to attend call Angus at 705-377-7404. Come on out and join up for some great curling fun this winter.

The Curling Club and Cheeky Heifer Farms will also be hosting the annual Manitoulin Meat Spiel on November 11, 12 and 13. This is an open spiel. $180 per team, all teams are guaranteed three games. There is also the blind Calcutta plus other fun prizes for the hog prize, take-out artist and the first team out. The first 16 teams will be accepted. Auxiliary News
Mindemoya Hospital

Now that summer is over, we have resumed our monthly meetings on the third Wednesday of the month at 7:30 pm in the board room of the Mindemoya Hospital.

Over the summer, we honoured two of our pledges to Mindemoya Hospital. We paid for replacement of all of the televisions in the patients' rooms. This was at a cost of just over $23,350. We will continue to pay the monthly cable fee and supply ear phones. We also contributed $50,000 to the telemetry fundraiser.

We placed six hand-knit toques in the oncology department. If you feel you need a hat to keep you warm this winter, check them out. If this project is popular in the local chemo room, we will knit more for you.

Our next fundraiser will be a luncheon, bazaar and bake sale to be held on November 12 at the Mindemoya Community Centre. The event will start at 11 am with the luncheon starting at 11:30 am. Cost for the lunch is $10 for adults, ages 6-10, $5 and children 5 and under, $2. So go upstairs and shop for knitted and sewn items, bake sale items, books, plants, puzzles, raffle tickets, penny table and many, many more items. Then come downstairs for lunch.

Again this year we will support the Manitoulin Student Aid Fund with six $500 bursaries.

With your generous help we will have another great year.
